In order to call public attention to a meritorious scheme I address the busi-THE GREATEST STUDY OF nees men of Prescott in the columns of

> For years past the feasibility of opening a more direct road to Walnut Grove has been a question of discussion, and it now comes up again. The operation of the Piedmont Water Storage Company, are giving employment to a good many men, and causing more travel and freighting to that place, and those living there or having business there, have been looking up the road matter seriously.

The case stands thus: The present wagon road to Walnut Grove by Iron Springs, Skull Valley and Morris' ranch, to where the company are building their dam at Wade's ranch, covers a distance of at least 45 miles, while by either of the trails, the old Board camp trail, the Cullumber trail, or the Montgomery trail. the distance is not more than 26 or 27 miles. Along the line of these trails, for 20 years, examinations have been industriously made without success, in trying to find a practical route for a wagonroad on that line.

At last it is admitted that there is a route over which a road can be constructed, that will not be more than 28 miles in length from Prescott to Abner Wade's ranch and the water works. This route for 16 miles passes over the Prescott and Bradshaw wagon road, a road that was built by the county of Yavapai about ten years ago in order to bring to Prescott the trade of the Peck and Bradshaw mining districts, and the desired result was attained.

The road has cost the county every year since it was built something for repairs but it has preserved the connection and those mining camps, which has resulted in the expending in Prescott of built would have gone to Phenix. Now there is a new scene of activity at the lower end of Walnut Grove.

What this community have been praying for since '63-that is outside capital -has come to Walnut Grove and that alive to their own interests. Consider the persuasive power. the sums of money they have spent to district, to secure the Tip Top and Humbug district trade. Consider the fact that they have a good road from Phenix up to the Castle Creek smelter, and control nearly all the trade of the St. Louis and Yavapai Company, of the Tiger, Bradshaw and Peck mining districts, and are now proposing to continue the wer the divide into Walnut Grove.

Yavapai county can start at Spence' palace station, on the Prescott and Bradhaw road, and follow down the east fork of the Hassayampa creek on the road built by the Bodie mining company about two miles and then follow nearly on the line of the Charley Washburn trail to the point where the east fork and Slate Creek unite, from which point wagon roads already exist to every point in Walnut Grove, which roads only require polishing up a little to make them eminently respectable. The distance where a new road has to be built will not exceed, between the points above mentioned more than six miles The objection has previously been made to this route that in winter the Prescott and Bradshaw road is troubled with snow. That is all bosh. There is no difficulty in keeping the road open if there is any business over the road, and the enow in Maple Gulch and Crook Canyon is no more an obstacle to travel, than the malpais mud that enforces an annual blockade in wet weather between Skull valley and Walnut Grove on the

After the examination of the East Fork route, as proposed, by Geo. Opdyke, H. W. Clark, Col. H. A. Bigelow and Chas. Wilson, all of whom have had much experience in roadbuilding, I make this proposition. I will contract to build a good wagon road from the Palace Station on the P. & B. road, to connect with present roads in Wal-nut Grove for the sum of $1,500, and am prepared to give bonds for the proper dilment of such contract.

This is a matter which the residents of Walnut Grove take a lively interest in, and if the business men of Prescot and the board of supervisors of Yavapai county will move in this matter and get the road built, it will save to Prescott a trade which naturally belongs to the city, but which for years past has been lowly but surely drifting to other C. This will allow sixty-five days for them to reach here and be laid. The longest delay yet experienced in receiving iron has been ferty five days. This has caused the greatest delay thus far in the construction of the road. Thirty miles will be completed to-morrow evening, The graders camp will be into Little Chino before the end of this month. Mr. Bullock also stated that he expected to put surveyors to work shortly on this end of the line. Ties for ten miles of the road will be cut near Prescott, and an opportunity for work is offered in this line to all parties apply-

The Flagstaff Champion edited by an old soldier gives a comrade the following hearty endorsement:

"Geo. W. Sines, one of the who is well and favorably known throughout the length andbreadth of the county. A man who, during the dark days of the rebellion, helped to battle for the preservation of the Union, and after it was over came to Arizona and has pairs but it has preserved the connection between Prescott, as a base of supplies, held offices of public trust and responsibility on several occasions, and the faithful fulfillment of them in the past, has mines, which had the road not been given him the confidence of the people, on the 2nd day of next November."

By a comparison of the two county tickets it will be seen that the democrats section. The Piedmont Co., have bought have nominated Prescott men to the out Wade's ranch for $10,000, the Barney | lucrative offices, such as Sheriff, Treas-Martin ranch for $3,500, the Prink or urer, District Attorney, Recorder and Martinez ranch for about $30,000, and Probate Judge, thus entirely ignoring ago, when he went into the cattle busi- Council and five members of the House have paid the cash, and in the procecuthe claims of anyone outside of that

From this showing it will be easily seen which party is free and untrammeled and has consideration for every section of the whole county, and which one bows the knee to its bosses and is considerate only of a clique of chronic office-holders. > "One of Tucson's business men was omplaining yesterday that ' the Tucson papers did not take enough pains in writing up the resources of the country and showing up its wonderful resources. That may be all true enough, but the fact is that the very man making the complaint is not advertising in a single paper in Tucson"-Star. Mr. Hughes has been long enough in the business to have discovered long ere this that the parties who pay least towards the support of newspapers are the ones who are the most profuse in their suggestions as to what they should contain. In every community there are always found a number of people who contribute little or nothing towards their local papers but who are forever finding fault with them. Their idea of the newspaper businces is well put by the Phenix Herald, which says that they look upon it "as a sort of eleemosynary establishment that has the ability to live on promises to pay and distribute the richest benefits to all around it and pay its employees $400 or $500 per month, forever. There are plenty of such men in the world."
